Aero Club Has Made Santos-Dumont a Tempting Offer

London, March 15 .- M. Santos-Dumont, whose sensational air ship flight around the Eiffel Tower won for him Deutsch prize of 100,000 francs. and who has essayed twice the transit over the Mediterranean, has been invited to England to attempt another flight and win another prize.

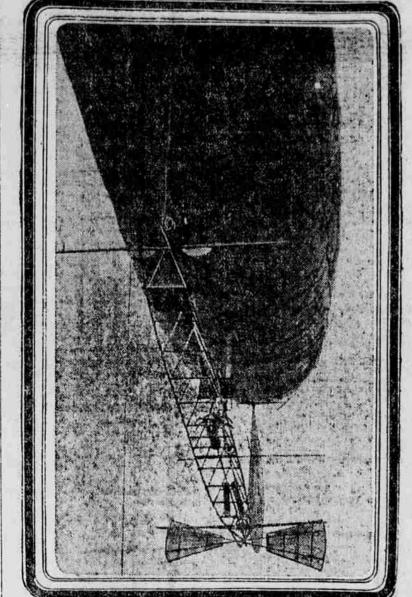

Mr. C. A. Pearson has, through the Aero club, offered a prize of £4,000practically the same amount that Santos-Dumont won in Paris-for a flight from London to Birmingham,

There are no conditions specifiednot even a time limit-but the competition is open to any aeronaut who may desire to contest. The distance is about 100 miles, and the task would seem comparatively easy for the daring young Brazilian, as no return is de manded, and the difficulties that made his trip around the Eiffel Tower such a wonderful feat are therefore climi-

Among the offers that have been made to Dumont was one to go to New York and fly under the Brooklyn bridge, round the Bartholdi Statue of Liberty and back over the bridge, To members of the Aero club, during the preliminary negotiations with Santos-Dumont, the air navigator said that there was nothing impossible in this course for his ship, and that under certain circumstances he would attempt

It is gossip that some of the English flying men are secretly training for this competition, and that at Sta if not before, an effort will be made to take his crown from the King of the Air, but so far as the public knows, Santos-Dumont is the only man who ever sailed an air ship against or across the wind, or who has produced a machine that is practically dirigible in the open air. There have been several exhibitions of models in Eugland that could be successfully operated in a building, but these have invariably failed when they were taken out where
